

Earial - For What Is Dark Is Light

(Music, arrangement, lyrics: Steven van der Steen © 2011)

[You]* When I survived and almost died...
(Did the infection go?)
...the relief was growing, but didn't make me smile a long while.

With fate aside I'm getting by,
for what is dark is light.
I've never felt so quiet, busy is my mind.
Oh, I try...

Don't have any rules to follow.

[Love] Oh, lamenting soul, I mean no tear!
You hear my voice of love...
I know I gave you scars, but I'm the same who gave girls' names to your guitars.

[You]	[Love]
They turned to gray	(Ana-Julia...)
I want you to stay	(Tangerina...)
Might never see you again	(I'm underneath your skin...)
You changed your face to ice	(I'm rational...)
To show my real face seems unwise	(Take the mask off...)
Don't understand

[You] Without an oath my heart is hollow.
I want to wake up sane tomorrow.
Reflection just reset my system.
How to know when things are fiction?

[You] I looked in the mirror where life's always waiting.
There we agreed upon, regret is my guiding light.
Nothing was real, but music forgave me.
The lines of this pledge are wrong and gone is my naked sight.
