

Earial - Moodsong

(Music, arrangement, lyrics: Steven van der Steen © 2004) what you aim for is good that you can't sleep is rude nine different reasons given while watching shady contours common sense is what i want but the only thing i do is feel frightened pale is true that's what i don't want to i listen to the braingrind noises tunes i make, but don't like can't take away that sound for anyone who's listening too in the arms of something new total ice or fire mood right before decision making i believe the ground was shaking singing my song, i look to the others that took nine different reasons given

the tremors ceased and fire took all my moods and when i looked inside me couldn't feel sad about this loss 'cause that feeling was just taken all my moods gone, forgotten what you aim for is good (nine different reasons given) that you can't sleep is rude (while watching shady contours) what you aim for is good (common sense is what i want, but the only thing i do is feel)
