

Earial - Not The NASA Kind

(Music, arrangement, lyrics: Steven van der Steen © 2005) i step outside and all stars flash me by each one wrapped infinite beauty tonight but i can't see one for no longer than a split second, for they are just too fast i'm here on my doorstep, oh so powerless regarding this without seeing the facts a man's computer is not the nasa kind every cell in my body launches a rocket when it's quiet, my brain finally ceases to registrate any interference and that's when content is given the chance to float up to the surface and in my head

a man's computer is not the nasa kind
where color means mental fulfillment
a man's computer is not the nasa kind
