

Aerial - Too Far Without A Car

(Music, arrangement, lyrics: Steven van der Steen © 2011)

It doesn't lie and never dies.
If I could choose some different rules...
The heart I had, forever changed.
I once believed in fairytales.

It got my stars and now it's dark.

I wanna sing another song,
'bout lovely things and sunny ponds,
but need to chew this one through.

And it's too far without a car.

So now I bend my saddest thoughts to good
and play the songs that really fit my mood.
Braced myself the way I could.
I forget the parts of you I should.

I got it all, up to every sign.
I know the fall was meant to stretch my mind.
The way I dream never lets me down,
so you give me, instead of mine?

I will guard the crucial part.

So now I bend my saddest thoughts to good
and play the songs that really fit my mood.
Braced myself the way I could.
I forget the parts of you I should.
